2. INTRODUCTION

The Lighthouse is a provider of residential care for young people up to 18 years old. The Lighthouse specialises in supporting young people with Autism, learning and communication difficulties and associated challenging behaviour.

Established in 2011 we have quickly grown, resulting in two specially adapted homes in South West London. Our experienced, dedicated and fully trained teams of support workers staff each home, and an equally experienced and dedicated management team leads them.

In April 2019, Raynes Park was awarded Autism accreditation status. Autism Accreditation is the UK's only Autism specific quality assurance program of support and development for all those providing services to autistic people. Achieving accreditation proves that an organisation is committed to understanding autism and setting the standard for autism practice.

We combine this professional experience with a family perspective, thus creating a dynamic service that strives to offer young people with learning difficulties better outcomes and wider horizons.

Our Statement of Purpose is written in line with Regulation 16; Schedule 1 of The Children's Home Regulations (England) 2015 and the Quality Standards.

Our Statement of Purpose has been designed to accurately reflect and describe how we, The Lighthouse Children's Home Raynes Park, set out to provide individualised care to meet the quality standards for young people. Our Statement of Purpose is periodically reviewed and/or as necessary, to ensure it continues to accurately reflect best practice in young people's residential care.

3. OUR ETHOS

Our ethos is to provide quality care in a family home. We ensure that all young people that we care for have positive childhood memories filled with warmth, care, friendship, laughter, adventure, fulfilment and more; all within a nurturing family environment. The views, wishes, aspirations and feelings of our young people are central to everything we do, because we are here to support and promote the growth of young people in several areas, including their strengths, reaching their potential, and celebrating their individual achievements.

4. OUR AIMS, OUTCOMES AND METHODS

Our Aims: We at The Lighthouse, pride ourselves in providing a safe and caring environment similar to that of a family home, for all of our young people. This is facilitated by and built on the affection of the staff in a professional and caring manner, that focuses on meeting the holistic needs of the young people in a nurturing and honest way.

Our Outcomes:

- We provide high quality individualised care that supports young people to make significant progress that draws out their full potential, thereby attaining successful outcomes as described in the Quality Standards.
- Based on each young person's views, wishes, choices and needs, we develop Individualised Care Plans that details the care and support package, sets goals that build on positive relationships, enjoyment and achievement, and the health and well-being of the young people.

- We have instituted and practised robust safeguarding procedures to protect the young people from any harm. It is central to everything we do!
- We monitor progress and developmental outcomes of each young person in relation with their Independent Care Objectives and other associated plans. This thus aids and prepares them for the transition to adulthood ensuring they are in the best possible position to succeed.
- We have an uncompromising stand on the active recognition of young people's rights.
- Our comprehensive young people's-based transition planning is our approach which enables us to confidently carry out smooth transitions. For all transitions to and from residential or educational placements, we will work in partnership with family, carers and any related professionals to develop a bespoke transition plan.
- We establish effective working relationships with the young people's school or college thus ensuring that the young people attend, learn, and reach his/her educational potential.
- Our home has an unwavering stance on both promoting and practising policies of Equal Opportunities, valuing Diversity and Anti-discriminatory practices.
- We provide each young person with stability and security, together with the opportunity to develop practical, social, emotional, and social skills, as a result, enhancing their confidence, enabling them to develop and benefit from positive relationships.

Our Methods:

The Lighthouse Children's Home approach to achieving these outcomes are through a variety of methods and approaches. Each young person is seen as an individual and the care that they receive is tailored around their needs.

We pride ourselves on promoting positive behaviour – for example by way of positive reinforcements and rewards; we use creative ways to celebrate the young people's achievements.

As a home we ensure the young people are communicated with and fully informed of everything they need to know using a variety of methods. A total communication approach is used to support young people with their individual communication needs. We have access to a wide range of methods to encourage and promote total communication, such as visual support systems (placemats), communication books, photograph referencing, object referencing, Makaton, body language, Social stories, soundboards and verbal communication.

We recognise that inevitably, and for various reasons, some young people display behaviour that would be considered as challenging. We utilise positive approaches to managing behaviour coupled with de-escalation techniques, along with following comprehensive behaviour management strategies. As the very last resort, we are trained to physically intervene – utilising the Team Teach techniques. Our staff team adopts an inclusive approach to assessment and intervention, which includes using a keyworker system, observation, and participation. We consistently consult with young people, their families and other agencies and professionals in implementing, monitoring and reviewing care plans. Staff are employed using a safer recruitment process, fully inducted, trained and developed to provide a high-quality staff team.

The organisational structure is designed to ensure all levels of staff from management to maintenance are supported and monitored to produce the greatest outcomes for the young people. Communication systems in place within the organisation at management level also ensure operations are highly efficient and effective.

Monitoring systems including Regulation 44 and 45 alongside Workforce development plans will be implemented to ensure the home consistently improves and specialises the service we deliver.

We do have a minibus however, as a team we try to encourage the use of public transport as much as possible in order to promote independence. We often enjoy trips to such places as swimming, Longleat, Chessington World of Adventures, London Zoo, local parks and nature walks, Trampoline parks and famously known restaurants.

6. REFERRALS

We have and always will give priority to ensuring any young people referred for placement meet the criteria for admission and that we will be able to meet their needs. Consideration will always be given to the appropriateness of the intended placement in how this affects the needs of the existing young people placed in the home. Placement matching is used to ensure that all placements are suitable.

In order to facilitate this process, we have an admission procedure, which ensures that sufficient information is obtained and disseminated prior to and during the induction period for young people. The procedure sets out the criteria for admission of young people and the service provision set up to meet their needs. The procedure also ensures that appropriate and adequate information is supplied to young people and their families/interested parties, such as: The Lighthouse Statement of Purpose, Complaints Procedure, Individual Care Plan, and Conditions of Care in line with current legislation. A simplified version of this has been produced for the young people using social stories.

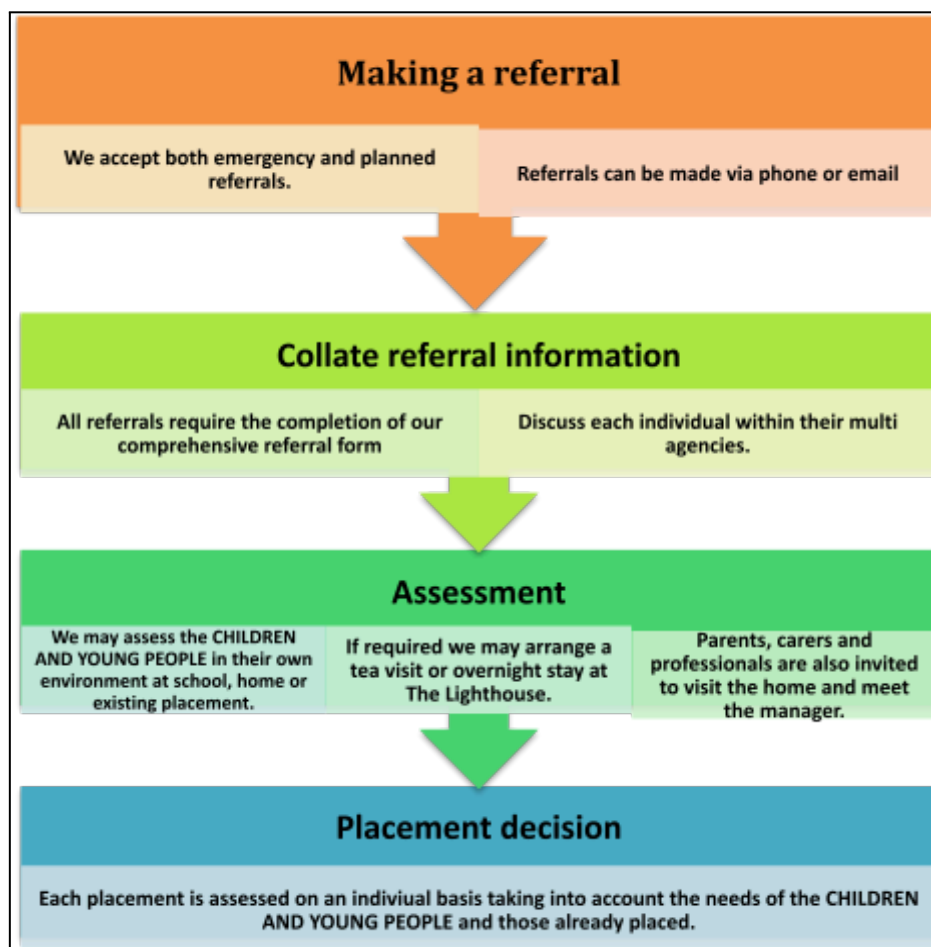

7. ASSESSMENT

The Lighthouse Children's Home is registered to accommodate young people full-time. Management will aim to visit the young people in their current placement in order to further assess their needs, gain information about the young people's needs and behaviour and to discuss subsequent admission/transition procedures. Visits to and potential overnight stays with us, by the prospective young person and their family are encouraged prior to placement.

The quality of information at this stage is vital to the future well-being of the young people and the period of settling into the home. Often a transition meeting is arranged at this stage to finalise paperwork, complete CLA and/or other paperwork.

The home will not operate a crisis intervention service which could be detrimental to the other young people in the home. However, the home will consider emergency referrals where there is a need to accommodate young people at short notice. We will aim to minimise possible disruption to the young people already placed with us. Where possible the full admission policy will be followed for emergency placements. However, in some instances there may not be an opportunity to assess the young person. In this event, attempts are to be made to establish as much information as possible on the young person and the reasons for the referral from the referring authority. This information should be requested and e-mailed to the home.

Based on the information provided, using our placement matching procedure the management team will decide on the appropriateness of the placement.

8. CONFIDENTIALITY & PRIVACY

All information on our young people, their families, and relevant others, are kept securely and treated in confidence; and our young people placed here are informed about this. Information will only be shared if the young people/parents/carers give their permission or there appears to be a young person protection issue. All details will be kept confidential, and records are kept secure. The details are easily accessible if any information is required for OFSTED inspection.

9. TRANSITIONS & DISCHARGES

Although this could be a period of mixed emotions for our young people, where they are either being transitioned or moving on in life, we take every measure to fully support our young people. We ensure all transitions and discharges are done smoothly and that the young person is fully involved in the process with their wishes and feelings being a priority.

10. CULTURAL, LINGUISTIC AND RELIGIOUS NEEDS OF THE YOUNG PEOPLE

We celebrate various religious festivals throughout the year at a level that is suitable to the young people living in the home, based on their individual choices, wishes and cultural backgrounds. We work closely with families/carers of the young people within our care to ensure that all the young people's cultural, linguistic and religious needs are known and are being met, such as supporting young people to attend their chosen places of worship.

Menus are adapted accordingly, multi-cultural objects and decorations will be provided accordingly, and the ethnic, cultural, religious and spiritual needs of the young people will be met as is practicable. Prior to the admission of a young person, any religious, cultural or linguistic needs are identified, and appropriate arrangements made, ensuring these needs are met. All information regarding the young person's religious, cultural and linguistic needs are specified in their individual care plan.

We provide a range of reading and educational materials in various formats to aid the young people to understand religion and culture, equality and diversity. With their aid, we put up visual displays on the landing floor wall which highlights photos, pictures and items associated with religious and cultural festivals. A comprehensive file is also available for young people to access containing details of all festivals and events happening throughout the year.

11. COMMENTS, COMPLIMENTS AND COMPLAINTS POLICY

We have a comprehensive complaint procedure, which is provided to the young people upon their admission to the home in the form of a Children's Guide, and can be made available to anyone upon request. The complaints procedure is also displayed on notice boards in our home in both written and symbol form.

There are a number of people to whom the young people are able to voice their concerns. These include:

- Keyworkers: Each of our young people are assigned a keyworker. Where possible, in a way that is appropriate according to the young people's age and understanding, the young people's wishes are sought and taken into account in the selection of their keyworker. These members of staff build and maintain both professional and friendly relationships with the young people. Keyworkers will adapt methods of communication to ensure the young person's wishes and feelings are identified, listened to and acted upon. This is documented creatively in their monthly keyworking sessions and is used to coincide with a monthly report reviewing progress, achievements and to discuss areas of development.

These reports can be sent on request to professionals and family/carers to keep them informed of the young person's monthly activities, education, behaviour, emotional well-being and to track progress.

- Staff Team (Support Workers, Seniors and Managers): Our young people are able to speak/communicate to any member of our staff team or regarding any concerns or complaints they may have. For young people with limited communication individual communication methods are applied such as visual symbols/objective referencing or Makaton. We practise an open-door policy for all young people and their conversations/communications are recorded within Manager's Consultation within their Key Working Sessions & Monthly reports.

- Others: Our young people are also made aware that should they wish, they can also request to speak directly with our Director or the External Consultant with any issues they choose not to discuss with staff.
- External: If the young people feel they cannot talk to anyone at the home, our young people are encouraged and supported to contact the following:
 - Their parents/carers/relatives and other significant people
 - Their Social Worker
 - The Local Police (101/999)
 - Childline
 - Children and Young People's Legal Centre
 - NSPCC
 - Ofsted

Young people may use the telephone to contact any of the appropriate people. If the young people do not know the telephone number for any appropriate person, then we will provide the details along with all the support needed by young people. If a young person has limited communication their keyworker or support worker would advocate for them using their preferred communication method. This could be done through Visual symbols, objective referencing, Makaton and or emotion cards/cushions.

If the complaint is about a member of our staff, then the member of staff will not be present during the initial discussion/session. The complaint will be written in the complaint file and if required, a member of staff will write/reflect the complaint on behalf of the young people. Our managers will then be notified, and they will, as soon thereafter as possible, undertake an investigation and take appropriate action accordingly whilst keeping the complainant informed.

The outcome of the investigation will also be recorded and should seek to satisfy all parties concerned with the complaint. We, as a whole team, value any comments or compliments regarding the services we offer and will look at any comments; and any actions that may arise from these will be recorded accordingly.

Furthermore, these comments, compliments and complaints will be used for Quality Assurance purposes.

12. REVIEW OF YOUNG PEOPLE'S QUALITY OF CARE

All of our young people deserve to have their say on the quality of their care and we make this an integral part of our Care Package. We consider these views as fundamental to the improvement of our services and the development of our home. We seek the young people's views, wishes and feelings from the start of their placement by adopting the inclusive approach (in their Placement Planning Meeting, Care Plan Meeting, Reviews, Assessments,) and encouraging the young people to express their views and wishes regarding their care. Their views and wishes are then gathered and transferred into their respective individual care plans to improve their quality of care.

We treat and value each young person as an individual and consequently we adapt our approach dependent on the young people's ability, age and needs, using a wide range of communication aids and tools to ensure our young people's rights to give their views, wishes and preferences are acknowledged and, where appropriate, catered too.

We consult with the young people by:

- Listen and Observe: Using every opportunity to listen to and observe the young people with the aim to develop positive relationships with all the young people and seek their feedback
- Total Communication: We practise total communication to enable all young people to express their views, wishes and feelings.
- Keyworker sessions: Consulting and understanding the needs, views and concerns through detailed individual keyworker sessions.
- Children's Meeting: The young people have monthly Children's Meetings, where they are individually encouraged to decide what they would like to gain from the meeting.
- Questionnaires and Quality Assurances: Seeking views of our young people through regular questionnaires and quality assurances where possible and appropriate.
- Consultations: 1:1 Discussions and Management Consultations with our young people.
- Independent Visitors: These unbiased individuals, on a monthly basis, spend time with the young people to gain their feedback regarding the home.

Personalised Children's Guides are provided for each young person where information regarding our home, our staff, their keyworkers, peers, facilities, privacy and confidentiality, safeguarding, bullying, money, meetings, complaints and contacts are recorded.

We have contacts for Advocacy Support Services to enable young people to have access to advocacy support to ensure their voice is listened to. This takes place in several forms which the young people will be informed about. We work closely with the social workers of the young people and we are able to arrange for an advocate through them also.

We have a detailed Anti-Bullying Policy which all staff and our young people are made aware of, especially as we promote and encourage our young people to develop and maintain healthy and positive relationships within and outside of the home. Therefore, we as a home, work towards ensuring the prevention and stamping out of bullying by early detection, effectively dealing with it, and further prevention of any form of bullying. Furthermore, a copy of our anti-bullying policy can be provided on request by asking the manager of the home.

Nevertheless, we are aware and completely understand that some of our young people might have associated challenging behaviour which in turn can sometimes be directed at others, and could be interpreted as "bullying." Autism and learning disabilities might often mean that our young people do not understand the concept of bullying and thus, we adapt our approach as necessary and challenge this behaviour outside the 'normal measures' used to counter bullying.

Regardless, we do not tolerate bullying – in any shape or form. Any instance of such behaviour will be investigated, responded to, and outcomes monitored. We diligently work closely with our young people and observe their behaviour patterns that may indicate if they are bullying or being bullied. Discrimination will always be actively challenged in our home as we constantly monitor and ensure that high levels of care practice is delivered in a non-discriminatory environment, thereby resulting in an environment where each and every of our young people and their families are valued as individuals. Our practice matches our Equal Opportunities Policy, which all of our staff are both made aware of and trained on.

Irrespective of ethnic or cultural backgrounds, religious and racial differences are acknowledged and respected and each young person is given the opportunity to have their views, wishes and preferences regarding religious choices, whilst we take a proactive approach to ensure these choices are celebrated.

Children's Rights also dictate how our home is run and the quality of care we provide, and we do everything to protect their rights. We also operate under the knowledge that all young people's rights are protected through Laws, Regulations, Policies and Procedures.

In our home, we believe that each young person has the right to:

- be treated as an equal and as an individual
- be cared for by people who understand their needs
- to be respected and have their opinion heard and be free to express themselves and their identity
- privacy including of his/her belongings
- confidentiality
- have healthcare needs addressed promptly
- receive an education which enhances their life prospects in every aspect
- protected from violence, exploitation, abuse, neglect and maltreatment
- receive respect and understanding regarding cultural, religious and spiritual beliefs
- have the opportunity to think independently, and make their own choices
- complain about anything that is felt to be unfair or unjust and to have that complaint listened and responded to
- develop and nurture lasting friendships and contacts within and outside the home
- be informed about all important decisions that affects the residents and to have their say
- treated with due dignity

13. ENJOYMENT AND ACHIEVEMENT

We at The Lighthouse promote the young people's right to pursue their particular interests or leisure activities that they may wish or want to fulfil. We understand that these activities help them to develop confidence in their skills, gain social interaction, and develop creativity and intellectual capacities.

Activities for school holidays and weekends are organised with the young people, taking into account their personal preferences and choices. We support and encourage active participation thereby resulting in greater enjoyment and achievements for our young people. Activities currently being chosen by our young people vary from within the community to further away such as holidays.

Our activities programme changes regularly to reflect individual needs and likes as well taking into account their developmental age. All activities are appropriately supervised, risk assessed and all activities are documented in the young people's handovers, monthly report and in their individual care plans.

In the house, the young people have access to a variety of activities. These include electronic equipment such as the computer and internet. There are also lots of games which encourage young people to spend time together building relationships. There are arts and crafts which have various materials to encourage the young people to show off their creative skills. A range of sensory toys are available for those that like or require them such as a peanut or exercise ball, tactile balls, water, sand & messy play, a bubble wall and other sensory equipment found within the sensory room.

The young people take part in baking and cooking regularly to help with their independence skills and to learn about ingredients and healthy eating. Young people are encouraged to try new things, to get creative and messy.

Specific cultural needs are specified in the young people's individual care plan and their cultural record sheet. Any cultural activities and celebrations will be supported and facilitated in line with these needs.

14. EDUCATION

We are committed to ensuring that all of the young people reach their full educational potential and maximise all opportunities to achieve their educational targets as set out in their Individual Education Plans (IEP).

We encourage the young people to value their education and training by ensuring that they are supported through their learning development, improving independent study skills, homework, and providing quiet and privacy. We aim to help and guide the young people through the barriers they may face in receiving their education. This may include raising the need for assessment for specialist provisions.

All of the young people will be actively encouraged to attend their educational placement. This may include support with transitions to and from school, staff support within their placement and the facilitation of home schooling if necessary. We support the attendance of any extracurricular activities and participation in school trips which promote learning outside of the formal education and training provision.

We can develop individualised Independent Life Skills for each of our young people, which furthers their education about subjects such as household tasks, economic welfare, their community and social life.

15. HEALTH AND MEDICATION

The health needs and wellbeing of the young people are of significant importance. Every effort is made to ensure all young people are provided with everything necessary to meet their health care needs. Issues of personal hygiene and health are dealt with sensitively and with the preservation of the young people's dignity.

We aim to get all of our staff to be First Aid trained and, on each shift, there will be at least one member of staff who is First Aid trained.

Every member of staff who administers medication is well-trained in the handling of medication, medication training and signed off as competent by suitably qualified managers.

There are no specific healthcare or therapies provided in our home. Any referrals to therapies or specific medical services are sourced externally through the young people's GP, with whom we have excellent working relationships with. If any young people required specific therapies or treatments, then staff would complete relevant training prior to undertaking this work.

We have a healthy eating visual display board in the dining room containing all aspects of healthy eating and decision making. The menus are displayed in social stories formats and clearly display healthy eating options.

The display boards are shaped by the young people and information regarding health and well-being is discussed with the young people prior to the display board being updated.

If young people are referred to the home with a pre-diagnosed condition requiring on-going medication, it is the responsibility of the Registered Manager to consult with the appropriate agencies and arrange for the correct procedures in respect of medication to be followed. This will be clearly recorded in the young people's file and medical log.

A detailed health file is kept on each young person accommodated in our home. It is the responsibility of the keyworker to ensure that up to date information is recorded on the case file. This includes illnesses, operations, immunisations, and dates of appointments with GP's and specialists.

Subject to any arrangements made in relation to mental capacity, young people aged 16 years and over can give their own consent to medical treatment. Young people under this age may also give their consent depending on their ability to understand the nature of the treatment. In any case, written consent to emergency medical treatment will be sought from the person with parental responsibility for the young people and be retained on their file.

16. POSITIVE RELATIONSHIPS

The home actively promotes contact between young people and their family and friends as far as reasonably practicable and within guidance from Social Services in relation to any care or supervision orders. The home will attempt to facilitate contact where possible, depending on the needs of the home and the other young people.

Parents will be consulted before any decision is made regarding the care of their child depending on care orders or instructions from Social Services. The planning and review of young people's care with the involvement of parents will provide the basis of a partnership between the home, the parents and the young people. The parent's involvement with the young people and exercise of their parental responsibility will be the basis of any agreed arrangements, and they will be made aware of this.

Memory books, pictures, letters, drawings, paintings and postcards can be sent to relatives or taken to meetings to show progress and activities. Young people are able to use the telephone and emails if this is appropriate.

Young people are encouraged to invite friends over and join in with birthday parties and other celebrations. And if age appropriate and deemed mentally capable, our young people go on dates and are given the opportunity to form 'special' bonds.

In our home, we help our young people's home to develop and benefit from relationships based on honesty, mutual respect and understanding with clear professional and personal boundaries, which are effective for the both of us.

One of the main aims of the home is to ensure that the home provides young people with warmth and comfort. It is expected that staff will form caring relationships with the young people and become fond of those they are caring for. These are natural feelings and should not be considered as inappropriate. However, we, and especially our young people, must be aware that this is in the context of the professional relationship.

We:

- help young people to develop socially aware behaviour and de-escalate confrontations with or between young people with potentially violent behaviour
- meet young people's behavioural and emotional needs, as set out in the young people's relevant plans
- encourage young people to take responsibility for their behaviour, in accordance with the young people's age and understanding; understand and communicate to young people that bullying is unacceptable and have the skills to recognise incidents or indications of bullying and how to deal with them
- help young people to develop and practise skills to resolve conflicts positively and without harm to anyone
- communicate to young people about expectations about their behaviour and ensure that the young people understands those expectations in accordance with the young people's age and understanding
- help young people to understand, in a way that is appropriate according to the young people's age and understanding, personal, sexual and social relationships, and how those relationships can be supportive or harmful
- help young people to develop the understanding and skills to recognise or withdraw from damaging, exploitative or harmful relationship
- strive to gain young people's trust and respect
- endeavour to learn and understand how young people's previous experiences and present emotions can be communicated through behaviour and have the competence and skills to interpret these to develop positive relationships with young people
- make certain that all our staff are provided with supervision and support to enable them to understand and manage their own feelings and responses to the behaviour and emotions of young people, and to help young people do the same

17. PROTECTION OF OUR YOUNG PEOPLE

Young people are assessed prior to admission on their required level of support. The home operates with a minimum 1:2 staff ratio for all young people, although the majority of placement would require 1:1 support at all times. Young people are supported at night by either 2 waking night staff or 1 waking night staff and 1 sleep-in staff, if there are 3 children and young people or less accommodated. During the night young people are checked on regularly depending on the young people's and parents/guardian's views and wishes.

The Lighthouse Children's Home may use devices for the monitoring or surveillance of the young people if the monitoring or surveillance is for the purpose of safeguarding the young people and promoting the welfare of the young people concerned. In these circumstances the home will ensure that they receive consent in writing to the monitoring or surveillance from the young person's placing authority. In these situations, the home will, where reasonably practicable, take into consideration the young person's age and understanding and inform the young person in advance of any intention to do any monitoring or surveillance. In all cases the home will ensure that any monitoring or surveillance is no more intrusive than necessary having regard to the young people's need for privacy.

On the front of the home CCTV is in operation for monitoring and surveillance purposes of the front door and driveways. This CCTV is in place primarily for security and is an additional measure to help safeguard and promote the welfare of the young people. As far as practicable and considering the young people's age and understanding the young people will be informed that CCTV is in operation at the front of the home. Although the CCTV is primarily used for security reasons, we nevertheless request written consent from the Placing Authorities. Having regard for the young people's privacy the external CCTV is no more intrusive than necessary.

18. SAFEGUARDING OF OUR YOUNG PEOPLE

Our detailed Safeguarding Policy, which correlates with our Child Protection Procedure, combines national and local guidelines and regulations. The effectiveness of the policies are monitored regularly and amended accordingly. A copy of our home's safeguarding policy can be provided on request.

We work closely with the Designated Safeguarding Officer (DSO) to ensure the prevention and resolution of young people's protection issues. All serious incidents involving the protection of the young people within the home are notified to Ofsted in accordance with the Children's Home Regulations. Incidents or concerns are conducted in line with the home's policies including, behaviour Management Policy, and Missing Person's Policy.

It is key principle that our young people are protected from abuse and exploitation and as part of this we ensure:

- The young people have their views, wishes and choices listened to, and their views are taken on board.
- The young people are made to feel valued and staff encourage the young people to build on their self-esteem.
- A complaints procedure which is clear, effective and user friendly and readily accessible to the young people.
- There is a complaint register which records any representation or complaint and addresses any action and the outcome.

- Recruitment and selection procedures for members of staff are rigorous, following the safer recruitment guidelines.
- There is a clear procedure in place for employees to express any legitimate concerns and practise through “Whistle blowing” without any prejudice on their own position
- There is an open respect for diversity and sensitivity to race, culture, religion, gender, sexual orientation and impairments.

We continuously receive appropriate and up-to-date child protection and safeguarding training which is regularly reviewed and updated. This includes information on how to look for possible signs of abuse, what to do if any of us suspect abuse and what to do if abuse is disclosed to any of us. There is detailed guidance in place detailing how we ought to respond when a young person reports an allegation of abuse. The home’s DSO is Sarah Tilley, who has completed advanced Safeguarding Training.

At The Lighthouse, we understand how the development of technology and the internet is a fundamental tool in the growth of our young people, however, we are also aware of the safeguarding implications it has. There is always a consideration for the games, television programmes, films, internet sites that the young people are accessing, and this is based on age and appropriateness.

As we do not alter our elevated stance on the importance of the safety and welfare of our young people, we are more than happy to respond to any request for an additional care review if a young person persistently goes missing from our home or is at risk of harm. We may seek to review the young people’s care plan with the local authority and other professional agencies in order to further safeguard the young people’s well-being and ensure that they receive the highest possible care and are being kept safe from potential harm.

19. MISSING YOUNG PEOPLE FROM THE LIGHTHOUSE CHILDREN’S HOME

The home has a comprehensive Missing Children’s Policy. This policy provides guidance on how to ensure the risk of young people going missing is minimised, if not eliminated. This policy highlights procedures to be followed, and the roles and responsibilities of every staff member, when a young person is missing from care or away from the home without permission; and how staff should support the young person upon returning to us. A copy of this policy can be provided upon request.

We pride ourselves in respecting the rights of our young people, and this includes their right to leave the home - The Lighthouse. Notwithstanding, we have a duty of care and our priority is ensuring that our young people are safeguarded at all times. Therefore, we remain vigilant at all times as to the whereabouts of young people and give this matter their highest attention.

The home’s joint protocol with London Child Protection Procedures refers to situations when young people who are looked after by a local authority, go missing from the home and provide guidance to all staff.

The Lighthouse Children’s Home also has additional safety measures in place to ensure the young people are safe and protected at all times:

- all young people's risk assessments have recorded an agreed level of supervision for each young person when in and out of the home
- correct staffing levels are observed
- staff give young people their full attention
- extra vigilance is observed in busy places
- staff wear sensible footwear, so that they can quickly follow a young person
- staff will carry assigned mobile phones when working with particular vulnerable young people to ensure that they communicate any concerns
- facilities, and outdoor venues visited are well known to staff, and have been visited in advance
- front doors are kept locked at all times when not in use
- each young person has a Missing Person's Plan which is kept up to date and reviewed regularly
- a daily handover is documented detailing what our young people are wearing to ensure staff can easily identify our young people

20. BEHAVIOUR MANAGEMENT, INCLUDING RESTRAINTS, SANCTIONS AND CONSEQUENCES

The aim of our Behaviour Management Policy is to ensure that appropriate behaviour is promoted at The Lighthouse and that any measures of control, discipline and restraint we use is necessary and proportionate.

We provide care and accommodation for young people who have autism and learning disabilities, who may have a variety of needs including those who may display associated behaviour that challenges. These could include self-injury, injury to others, kicking, hitting, punching or biting, being destructive to property etc.

Our principle with regards to behaviour management is to aid our young people to develop socially acceptable behaviour through the recognition and encouragement of acceptable positive behaviour; and the constructive response to inappropriate behaviour. We believe in the principle of gentle teaching, positive reinforcement, and reward strategies.

In order to promote positive behaviour, we have an established framework of general routines. Individual boundaries of behaviour are well defined, and we have realistic expectations of behaviour, incorporating the use of consistent and sensitive methods of control. Behaviour Management Strategies, Positive Behaviour Support Plans and Behaviour Reflections are some of our methods of control. We also train and implement the principles of de-escalation, diversion, communication and positive reinforcement.

In addition to this, we realise the importance for our young people to have boundaries and in some cases consequences for their behaviour. Nevertheless, young people will be expected to understand and account for their behaviour and actions; and in so doing, accept the consequences of their behaviour - as appropriate for their cognitive level.

'No measure of control or discipline which is excessive, unreasonable shall be used at the home, in accordance with Regulation 19 (2) to the Children's Homes Regulations 2015.'

In line with that, we practise restraint only as a last resort policy where each situation calls on a dynamic risk assessment and a professional judgement. In accordance with Regulation 20 restraint is only to be used if the young people are in danger of injuring any person including themselves; causing serious damage to property; and as a last resort. Restraint must always be necessary and proportionate.

21. HEALTH AND SAFETY OF OUR YOUNG PEOPLE AND OUR STAFF

Our Health and Safety Policies and Procedures ensure the health and safety of our home and protect the young people from avoidable hazards. This includes robust weekly, monthly and annual checks, which are completed in line with national guidelines. In addition, we receive training on the health and safety at work and where possible, we work with our young people at home encouraging them to learn the safety aspects of the home, helping them to build their independence and to take pride in their environment. We also operate a structured maintenance system to ensure that all repairs are undertaken promptly.

22. YOUNG ADULTS THAT LIVE IN THE HOME AFTER THEY TURN 18

At times it may be appropriate for a young person to remain living in the home after their 18th birthday. The Lighthouse will ensure that where this is requested or identified to be necessary there will be an assessment to ensure that their needs remain in keeping with the home's statement of purpose.

We will also complete a review of their matching risk assessment alongside the impact of their remaining in the home on other young people placed here to identify and, where necessary, implement risk reduction actions. We will work alongside relevant external agencies with regards to safeguarding and transition planning such as the London Adult Safeguarding Board.

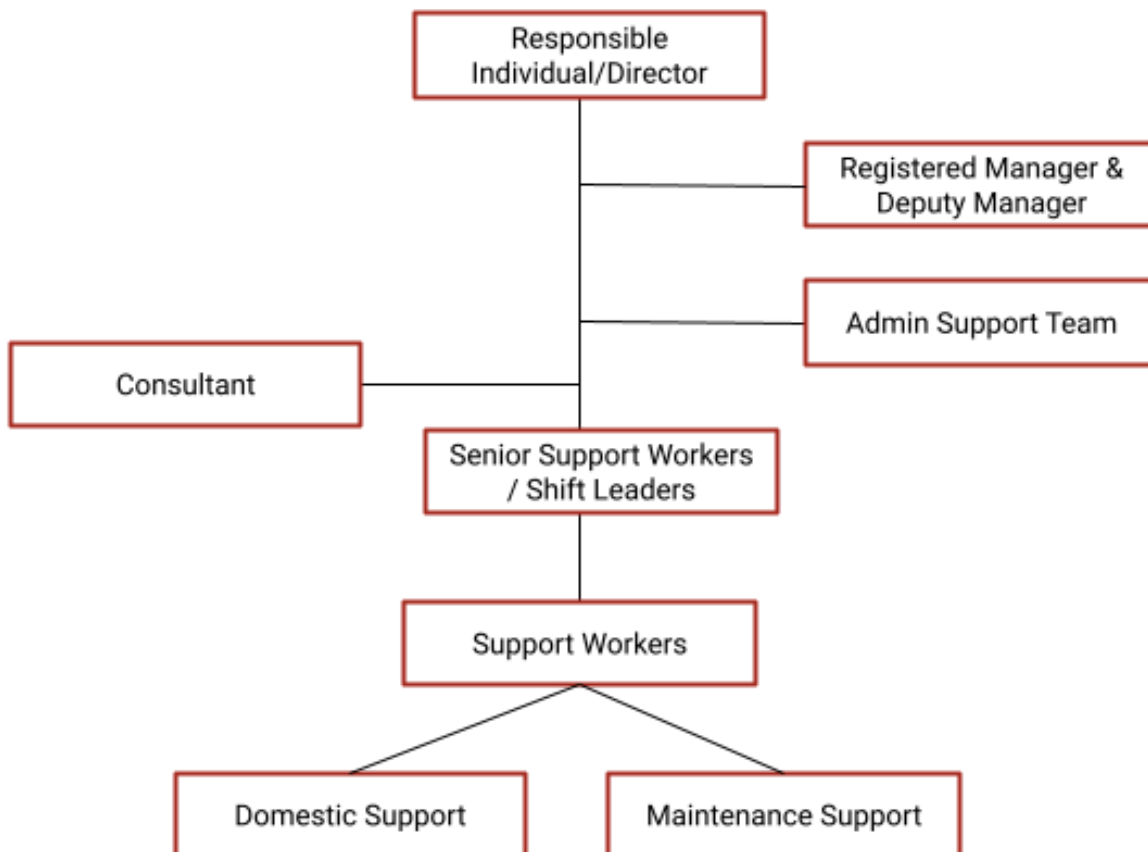

23. YOUNG PEOPLE MOVING INTO THE HOME BEFORE AGE 8

There may be times where the home gets a referral, especially emergency referrals for a young person younger than 8. The home will ensure it completes a suitability risk assessment to ensure the home can meet the young person's needs and that they match with the current young people in the home.

Any risks will be minimised and any actions will be put in place. The home will work with all professionals involved and notify the home's local MASH team that they have a new young person who is younger than 8.

24. MANAGEMENT AND STAFFING

The Lighthouse Children's Home is privately owned and managed.
